● TOPIC 2.8.1

What Is a Round-the-World Fare?

Circle the globe

Travel continuously east or west and return to the starting country.

Alliance products

Sold mainly by alliances (e.g., oneworld Explorer, Star Alliance RTW).

Many stops

Multiple stopovers on one ticket, valid up to about 12 months.

DEFINITION

An RTW fare is a special fare that allows travel around the world in one general direction, crossing both the Atlantic and Pacific, and returning to the country of origin.

● TOPIC 2.8.1

RTW vs Normal Tickets

Normal OW / RT

- Priced component by component
- Limited stopovers
- Usually one or two carriers
- Short validity on cheap fares

VS

RTW Ticket

- One package price
- Many stopovers allowed
- Many alliance airlines
- Long validity, flexible dates

● TOPIC 2.8.2

Two Ways RTW Fares Are Priced

Mileage-Based

Price bands by total miles flown (e.g., up to 26k, 29k, 34k or 39k miles) — Star Alliance style.

Continent-Based

Price depends on number of continents visited (e.g., 3-6) — oneworld Explorer style.

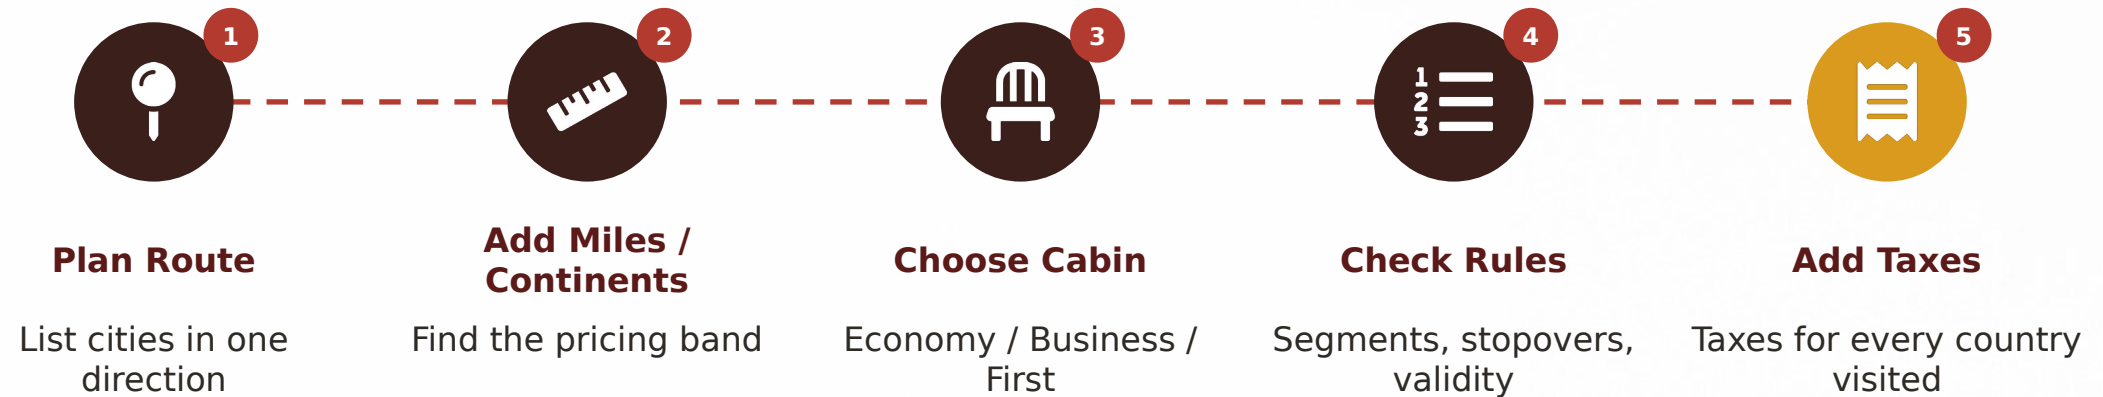

Cabin & Origin

Economy, premium or business; price differs by country of origin.

● TOPIC 2.8.2

RTW Pricing Steps

● TOPIC 2.8.3

Key RTW Rules

One Direction

Continuous eastbound or westbound; backtracking within a continent may be limited.

Ocean Crossings

Cross the Atlantic and the Pacific exactly once each.

Max Distance

Total miles must stay within the purchased mileage band.

Stopovers & Segments

Limits on number of stopovers and flights (often up to ~15-16 segments).

● TOPIC 2.8.3

Typical RTW Conditions (Illustrative)

Condition	Typical rule
Start / end	Same country
Validity	Up to 12 months
Minimum stay	Often ~10 days before return
Stopovers	Minimum 2-3, maximum ~15
Changes	Date changes often free; route changes may cost

● TOPIC 2.8.4

Case Study: Priya's Gap-Year Trip

Eastbound from Delhi, economy, mileage-based.

- Route goes eastbound only.
- Crosses Pacific (SYD-LAX) and Atlantic (NYC-LON) once each.
- Total miles determine the price band.
- Taxes added for each departure country.

RTW PLAN (illustrative)

DEL-SIN	2584 mi
SIN-SYD	3906 mi
SYD-LAX	7488 mi
LAX-NYC	2475 mi
NYC-LON	3451 mi
LON-DEL	4180 mi

TOTAL	24084 mi

-> fits 26,000-mile band

• TOPIC 2.8.4

Case Study Result (Illustrative)

24,084

total miles flown

26k band

economy mileage band selected

flights / 5 stopovers

Compare: pricing each sector separately would usually cost far more than the RTW package.
